Northeast Washington

Rev. Dr. T. C. Easton, pastor of the Eastern Presbyterian Church, located at Sixth street and Maryland avenue northeast, left the city last Monday morning on his summer vacation. During his absence, the pulpit at the Eastern Presbyterian Church will be occupied by Rev. J. M. Nourse. Before Dr. Easton's return, it is the purpose of the trustees to have the lecture room frescoed and to make a number of improvements on the interior of the edifice.

It is said that the condition of Michael Maxey, the painter who fell and received a severe injury to his skull while working at 217 East Capitol street Tuesday afternoon last, is much improved. The surgeons, who are attending him, are of the belief that he will recover.

In honor of his twenty-first birthday, Osborn Frangley, of 355 Fourth street, was tendered a surprise party by a large number of his friends, Tuesday night. Games were played during the evening and the prizes awarded to Miss Laura Halvey, Miss Bertha Eldness, Osborn Frangley and Louis Hettkenkem. Refreshments were served and the table was tastefully decorated in pink and blue. The following were present: Misses Roberta Newarth, Ella Lewis, Matilda Els, Laura Halvey, Bertha Eldness, Annette Eldness, Lizzie Hettkenkem, Lulu Hettkenkem, Matilda Hettkenkem and Osborn Frangley, William Halvey, L. The following took part: Misses Virgie Douglas, Florence Woltz, Lucille Starnell, Josie Woltz, Emma Ring, Helen Woltz, Myrtle Woltz, Grace Douglas, Thelma Clower, Emma Campbell, Florence Rector, Lois Rector, Vera Burns, Grace Cherry, John Egan, Arthur McGinnis, Norman Daly, Miss Marie McKevitt, Miss Mortimer, Miss Bessie Starnell, Miss Ida Wooden, Madam Espada Daly, and six little girls under the direction of Miss Virgie Douglas.

The transfer of a liquor license from 14 G street northwest to 129 F street northeast was refused last week by the Excise Board. The applicant was Jeremiah Costello, who was represented by Franklin Keane. Mr. Keane explained that his client, Mr. Costello, had been impressed by the weight of opposition in evidence at the preliminary hearing before the Excise Board, and had reached the conclusion that citizens in the vicinity of Twelfth and F streets were opposed to having a saloon located at that place. He asked himself that the license be refused.

Miss Irene Pole, a popular girl of Capitol Hill, and one of this year's graduates of the Eastern High School, left the city last week, in company with Miss Josephine Hinchman, of Philadelphia, for an extended trip to Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York, and Buffalo. They will stop for a week in the latter place as the guests of Judge and Mrs. Parker, and expect to join Mrs. Pole August 15 at Capon Springs.

The regular meeting of the Washingtonians was held at the clubrooms, 71 K street northeast, Monday evening. C. N. Phelps presided. Arrangements were also made for a trip to Atlantic City by a large number of members in the club, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Appleby. The trip will probably be made about the last of this month. The members of the club spent a delightful day Sunday at Chesapeake Beach.

The Misses Brown entertained the members of the I. F. F. C. of Capitol Hill, at their home, 1139 Park place northeast, Wednesday evening. At the conclusion of the business session the club members departed for a delightful car ride to Takoma. On July 4 the members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Franklin Harvey, at Seabrook, Md.

Walter F. Smith, of Capitol Hill, has gone to Mt. Bethel, where he will remain for several weeks.

Eckington

The public playgrounds situated on North Capitol and L streets are creating very general interest in the Eckington district. The children of this vicinity are enthusiastic over the grounds of the athletic directors of the club. No playground in the city has been so many times victorious in the inter-club playground contests as this, which accommodates the children of Eckington.

At the meeting of the athletic directors, held Monday afternoon in the Curny building, stress was laid upon the subject of trophies for this year's final tournament between teams of the respective playgrounds. Dr. Curtis said there is not enough money available for trophies out of the regular appropriation, and that private subscriptions will have to be solicited to meet the cost; otherwise there will be no trophies. The necessary sum is about $200.

The athletic supplies urgently necessary at present have been obtained and the outfits for the coming football season have been ordered.
